HONDA
The Power of Dreams

Working with TransPerfect for nearly two years now, we have been very impressed with their high-quality deliverables. We've come to depend greatly on their timely and efficient results, and they are always willing to go the extra mile to meet and exceed our expectations. TransPerfect is the kind of vendor that will guarantee Honda our business success.

- Assistant Manager, Technical Training

In order to support the company's growth in Latin America, Honda's e-learning department was looking to streamline the process of providing Master Technician training to technicians in local dealerships.

With the help of TransPerfect, Honda was able to reduce the time it took to create localized e-learning modules, including voiceover, from two months to two weeks.

Now, Honda's Latin American technicians are able to obtain Master Technician certification more quickly, enhancing overall employee development and increasing customer peace of mind.
