

TransPerfect enables global biotech leader to provide first-class medical information support

Shire chose TransPerfect's Medical Writing group to create their medical information response documents for physicians, as well as handle the localization of these documents for use in their international markets.

By working with TransPerfect, Shire is now able to ensure regulatory compliance, and optimize their English content for translation to reduce both cost and turnaround time.

This enables Shire to provide unrivalled response times and customer support to physicians around the world.

“TransPerfect supports Shire’s Medical Information team with the regionalization of response documents. Their high-quality medical writing and translation support team has enabled us to get critical information to physicians faster—helping us achieve our goal to help our patients lead better lives.”
